Our young friend, Victor Fuqua, who has been with Dr. A. P. Campbell, for some time, left last night for Grand Rapids, Mich., to take the position of assistant dentist in the largest dental office in that city. Victor is a clever young man, attentive to business and will doubtless be successful in his new home.

The Fair.

The fair begins next Wednesday, and should the weather be favorable all four days will be largely attended. Everything points toward success. The first day, which is not uncommonly the case, will be as attractive as the last.

The business houses will be closed, many, if not all the shops will stop work and everything possible to give the fair a grand send-off will be done. We are glad to see that our business men recognize the fact that the benefits accruing from a successful fair are not confined alone to the stock holders, but that everyone is more or less benefited. Let the workmen and everybody engaged in mercantile business go and have a rest from labor and confinement one day in the year. The directors have spent a great deal of time and been at vast trouble in perfecting the arrangements for a successful fair, and we hope their efforts will not be fruitless.

1, 2, 3, 4.

The chariot races will be one of the chief attractions of the fair. The chariots arrived last Wednesday.

Jordan Giles, Esq., of Henderson, was in the city Wednesday, presumably on railroad business.

Miss Lizzie Bullard can in future be found at the millinery store of Mrs. Ike Hart.

Mr. R. F. Rives of the Casey neighborhood, lost a large barn full of tobacco Tuesday.

Real advertisement of sale of library, office furniture etc., of the late H. W. Henry.

James Melley's "Nora G." captured one of the purses at the Nashville races this week.

"Will the Democrats raise a pole?" is the question. We will let you know in a few days about it.

R. F. Reeves, of Casey, says the wheat fertilizer bought of D. A. Tandy last season doubled his crop of wheat.

How we do wish that the yellow fever sufferers could have some of the cool weather we are now enjoying.

Don't fail to attend the County Teachers Association, which convenes in this city on Saturday the 29th instant.

The South Kentuckian keeps a full assortment of paper bags always on hand, and there is no use sending off for them when you can get them as cheap at home.

The painting that was done on the cupola of the court house added very much to its appearance. A coat of paint all over would be a great improvement.

Tuesday morning a dog belonging to Esquire Alex Campbell was taken with a peculiar spell, and in order to take no risk about his being used Mr. Campbell shot him.

Trustees who have not been supplied, will please call on F. H. Henshaw, snr., for copy Trustees' Record Book, also blank certificates for reparation for Monthly payment of Teachers.

No doubt substantial aid will be sent to the yellow fever sufferers from Hopkinsville. The collections which were taken at the Baptist and Ninth street Presbyterian Churches last Sunday was but the beginning, we hope, of the good work.

The young ladies of the Ninth St. Presbyterian church will have an oyster supper on the 5th followed by a picnic on the 6th prox. The proceeds to be devoted to the "Parsonage Fund." The supper will be served as early as 5 o'clock. The public is cordially invited.

Peter Morgan, received a letter from A. F. Morgan, of Forkland, Va., giving an account of the birth of four children to the wife of Mr. Archie Crowder, who lived neighbor to him. The largest weighed eight pounds and the smallest five pounds. Old Virginia is a hard State to down.

Deputy U. S. Marshall, Thomas Greer, arrested Henry Clark, colored, last Tuesday, and had him before Commissioner Lammie for trial on the charge of selling whisky without Government license. Clark will be taken to Louisville in a few days to stand his trial in the United States Court.

C. H. Clarke & Co., who bought out the furniture business of W. A. Gossett less than three months ago, have done a splendid business—in fact it has grown so that it now takes two rooms to store their goods, Nos. 18 and 20 East Ninth street. Their stock of furniture embraces all the latest designs—and new ones are always coming out, and all wanting anything in their line will not fail to be pleased by an examination of their stock and prices.

Messrs. Caldwell & Randle of this city, have just completed a fine job of galvanizing iron work on the Odd Fellows Hall at Trenton. The people of Trenton were so well pleased with the work, the enterprising firm at once received orders for four other jobs. The work they are doing on the public school building at Elkhart is galvanizing iron in this section, and their work will compare favorably with that done anywhere. They inform us that they are crowded with orders, but will increase their facilities, when it is necessary. Don't send your orders off. The above firm can do it as well as anybody. Partridge home industry.

The mother of Jefferson Baker, who was so seriously injured by a freight train last week, arrived in the city Wednesday. The physicians delayed amputation until the last moment, hoping that the poor man might possibly get well without resorting to the operation. Yesterday morning they found, however, that it was absolutely necessary and at 10 o'clock Drs. Fuqua, Young, Gunn, Christian and Yates commenced the delicate operation. In a short time the man awoke to find that Dr. Fuqua and the others had very satisfactorily got through with the operation. It is to be hoped that Baker will recover.

Messrs. John Ayer and Rob Burnett have rented the store house on Frederica street recently occupied by Mr. H. A. Miller, and will shortly open an extensive goods' furnishing establishment. Mr. Ayer will leave in a day or two to purchase stock, and the firm hopes to be ready for business by to-morrow week. The new firm is composed of two of Owensboro's most popular and deserving young business men who have had experience in the business which they will shortly undertake, and their friends predict for them a prosperous trade.—Owensboro Inquirer.

Speaking of the Rutledge Dramatic Company, which will hold the boards at the Opera House during the approaching fair, the Vanilla (Ill.) News says: "The Rutledge Dramatic Company is giving a series of dramatic performances at the opera house this week that have seldom been equaled and certainly never surpassed in Vandalia. Last night the thrilling border drama, 'A Mountain Daisy,' was presented before a large and well-pleased house, and if laughter and rounds of applause are a test of merit and appreciation, the company certainly cannot complain."

Mr. L. B. Waltz, who was so unfortunate as to get a splinter in his right eye some three weeks ago, and from which he has endured great pain, returned from Cincinnati a few days since, when he had been under the treatment of a specialist. Mr. Waltz, we are glad to say, will not lose his eye, as it is much improved. He is a conductor of one of the local freights on this division of the L. & N., and there is not a more popular man on the road. We hope before many days that he will be able to take charge of his train.

The young people of the city, as has been their custom for years, will give a hop on the night of the first day of the fair, Wednesday, October 3d. A fine band of six pieces from Nashville will furnish the music, and the armory, where the ball is to be given, will be decorated. Six hundred invitations have been sent out to young ladies, but gentlemen are not ticketed. No efforts will be spared to have this excel all the hops that have heretofore been given.

Monday morning after the train going south from Louisville arrived near Glasgow Junction, some second-rate threw a rock, nearly as large as one's fist, through a window and struck a lady who had bought a ticket for Hopkinsville on the side of the head. She was greatly frightened and suffered so much pain that she was not able to proceed on her journey remaining over at Glasgow.

The pollen were on the trail of a negro by the name of Tig Merrilweather, last Tuesday, who had committed a nameless crime near Clarksville, not long since. Merrilweather happened to see an officer walking with a person from Clarksville, and rightly guessing they were on the look for him, concealed himself until a night freight train going north came along and hoarded it.

The impression that an additional public school building is to be built at an early day is incorrect. A lot was bought in the southern part of the city three since, for school purposes, but it is not the intention of the trustees to attempt to build for some time, owing to a lack of funds. The annex to the old building will soon be completed, Messrs. Dalton Bros., having got through with the brickwork yesterday.

The third Monday in October is the regular meeting of the Court of Claims. All parties having claims against the county must file them with the county clerk five days before court convenes. Don't confound this meeting with that of next Monday, which is called to consider the Neale proposition.

Mr. Henderson Wade, who does the turning at Forbes & Bro's. mill, unexpectedly got his right fore-finger between the "rest" of the lathe and a large column he had been trimming Wednesday, and had the nail entirely pulled off, leaving it hanging by a very small piece of flesh.

Elsewhere in this issue it will be seen that Austin D. Hicks, the popular young fire insurance agent, inserts an advertisement of his business. Austin represents none but gilt edge companies and justly deserves the large and constantly increasing patronage he is enjoying.

Hon. James A. McKenzie failed to keep his appointment to speak at Haverhill Thursday on account of the train being delayed by a tree falling across the track.

A rousing railroad mass meeting will be held at the court house next Monday night. Representative men from all parts of the county will be present.

The Directors of the fair have made arrangements with Smith's band, of Evansville. This band is said to be the equal of Warren's band.

Marketing of all kinds is getting scarce. Our friends in the country need not fear finding axes for their products now.

Mr. T. J. Wall, of the popular clothing and shoe house of P. C. Dicken & Wall, has moved his family to the city.

A good deal of tobacco in the northern part of the county is still in the field.
